

Kiel University's guidelines of 27 April 2011 on awarding scholarships in accordance with the German act on the creation of a national scholarship program (Gesetz zur Schaffung eines nationalen Stipendienprogramms) as well as the directive on the execution of the German scholarship program act (Verordnung zur Durchführung des Stipendienprogramm-Gesetzes) (updated 13th January 2020)

I. General notes

1. Kiel University has been awarding scholarships in accordance with the German act on the creation of a national scholarship program or German scholarship program act (Gesetz zur Schaffung eines nationalen Stipendienprogramms – StipG) since 1 October 2011. The scholarship is designed for students at all stages of study.
2. The German act on the creation of a national scholarship program or German scholarship act (Stipendienprogramm-Gesetz – StipG), the German directive on the execution of the German scholarship program act or scholarship program directive (Stipendienprogramm-Verordnung – StipV) and these University Board's guidelines on awarding Deutschlandstipendium (Richtlinie des Präsidiums zur Vergabe der Deutschlandstipendien) apply.
3. Scholarships of €300 per month are awarded for a period limited to two semesters. The number of scholarships available depends on the sum of private funding raised.
4. Applications are received from individuals who meet the admission requirements for their degree program and either have yet to start their courses or are already registered at Kiel University. Reapplication is possible; in principle, the maximum duration for funding depends on the standard period of study of the particular degree program in question. Section 8 StipG applies to scholarship termination. Dual funding is excluded in accordance with Section 4 StipG.
5. Kiel University promotes contact between scholarship recipients and private sponsors by suitable means, in particular, through special joint events. The scholarship recipient is not obliged to accept invitations to keep in contact with private sponsors. The event program is itself to be designed in such a way as to ensure that the scholarship is not made dependent on a quid pro quo.
6. The scholarships are awarded for one year each. Repeat applications are possible.
7. Doctoral degree students can not apply for a Deutschlandstipendium.

II. Criteria

1. The Deutschlandstipendium is a scholarship program that is based on certain performance criteria. These are mainly proven with school and university certificates, and supplemented with additional criteria.
  - general certificate of qualification for admission to higher education (HZB - Allgemeine Hochschulzugangsberechtigung), a HZB specific to the subject of study, or a foreign HZB whose equivalence has been recognised by the relevant office. If the application documents are not written in German, an officially certified translation into German must also be submitted.
  - caring for a biological child up to 14 years.
  - particular achievements, awards, prizes (e.g. winner of the German young researcher competition "Jugend forscht") from the last two years, previous vocational training, work experience or voluntary services lasting at least six months, current extracurricular activities or activities in other fields, such as voluntary work in society, university politics or religion, or in associations or clubs, as well as special personal or family circumstances such as illnesses and disabilities, caring for close relatives in need of nursing care (parents, siblings, spouse) or a personal background as a "first generation student" (i.e. neither parent has attended university).
2. Applicants for degrees in medicine culminating in the state medical examination are not entitled to general scholarships, as a separate scholarship pool is available for these applicants.
3. For participants of the Software Challenge who apply for the subject Computer Science: Applications are received from individuals who meet the admission requirements for their degree program, are yet to start their course at Kiel University, and have been successful participants of the Software-Challenge. Section 8 StipG applies to scholarship termination. Dual funding is excluded in accordance with Section 4 StipG. Application as part of the general call for applications for Deutschlandstipendium is possible in accordance with local provisions. If the applicant is successful in the general call for applications, his/her Software-Challenge scholarship is forfeited.

If there is no overall grade (as a numerical value) for Abitur, the selection committee shall decide on an alternative numerical value.
  - b. For special personal circumstances resulting from caring for at least one biological child under the age of 14, 0.1 points shall be deducted per child.
  - c. For particular achievements, awards, prizes (e.g. winner of the German young researcher competition "Jugend forscht") from the last three years, previous vocational training or work experience lasting at least six months, a total of 0.1 points can be deducted.

  - e. For special personal or family circumstances such as illnesses and disabilities, caring for close relatives in need of nursing care or a personal background as a "first generation student" (i.e. neither parent has attended university) a total of 0.1 points can be deducted.
8. In the event of equal ranking, the decision shall be made by drawing lots.
